

Infographic On Teaching Consent

Select Download Format:

Proponents of safe sex have been successful in getting people to use condoms, but they have been less successful in getting people to use birth control. Many people are still not using birth control, and many people are still not using condoms. This is a problem because both condoms and birth control are effective ways to prevent pregnancy and sexually transmitted infections. The infographic explains why people are not using these methods and what can be done to encourage them to do so.
